

Booking & Availability

The Clinical Research & Evaluation Unit is available for clinical study appointments and monitoring visits.

Advanced booking is required. The unit is available weekdays and weekends from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Please note:

- Investigators and staff will be granted access to the unit once study arrangements have been approved. Access will be provided by updating researchers' ID and security access cards.
- Only procedures and tests that are acceptable in the ambulatory setting are permitted in the unit. Researchers must have anaphylaxis kits in the event of an adverse allergic reaction to tests or vaccines administered in the unit.

Clinical Research & Evaluation Unit

For clinical researchers of the Oak Street campus

The new Clinical Research & Evaluation Unit is available for clinical study appointments and monitoring visits. With eight exam rooms, a weight and assessment area, dry and wet storage and more, this unit is equipped to meet the needs of most clinical research studies.

The unit is located on the street level of the southeast corner of CFRI's Translation Research Building.

Left: This exam room doubles as an observation room. A one-way glass window into the next room is covered by privacy curtains.

Facilities

Eight Exam Rooms

All patient examination rooms are equipped with:

- ophthalmoscope
- sphygmomanometer (blood pressure cuff)
- otoscope
- sink
- meeting table, clinician stool and chairs for patients
- computer and telephone line

Six exam rooms have standard examination tables for children or adults. Two rooms are equipped with gynecology exam tables, privacy curtains and examination lights.

Clinical Observation Room

Two exam rooms double as an observation room and adjacent viewing room. The rooms are connected with a one-way glass window. The observation room is equipped with sound recording equipment and is wired for video recording. (Note: a video camera is not available at this time.)

Weight / Assessment Area

This area is equipped to assess infants, children and adults. It is wheelchair accessible and has electronic scales, a stadiometer and an electronic vital signs monitor.

Storage Rooms

One wet storage room and one dry storage room are available for supplies, equipment and samples. The wet storage room features a monitored immunization/vaccine refrigerator, upright freezer and countertop fridge.

Reception Area & Waiting Room

The reception desk has a telephone line, networked printer, desktop computer and lockable storage. The waiting room seats nine people and has a child size table and chairs.

Washrooms

The two accessible patient washrooms have specimen retrieval cupboards. One has a baby change table.

Staff Work & Meeting Area

This multi-purpose room contains a telephone line, four workstations, two desktop computers and a multifunction printer/fax/copier device. It also doubles as a lunchroom with a sink, refrigerator and microwave.
